Deloris Griffith

Deloris was born in Arkansas originally, but is a native spirit of the southwest having spent 40 years here. Deloris is mainly self-taught, but along the way she had acquired training at the University of New Mexico fine arts department. She has been fortunate enough to have taken workshops from some of the country's leading artists.

Deloris feels that the path of being led by your own inner light is the most important teacher of all! There is a place where your heart & mind can experience the joy of beauty. She knows her art is painted for her own healing but touches the person it is painted for in the same place.

Artist Statement:

I have no preconceived ideas of how the painting will look in the final stages. I work with water, air, fire & earth energy as we all do in everyday life. In artistic terms water being the vehicle carrying the pigments, air the magic of exact drying time, fire being my enthusiasm, excitement, evolvment & wind being the spirit moving through the art.
