Porcelain Designs

In order to enjoy my work to the fullest, I personally execute every part of every piece I create. I thrive on the physical involvement with clay; it's movement & immediacy is like a dance for my soul.

I use many methods & techniques that I have learned & developed over 35 years of working with clay. Using porcelain clay, with its capacity for fine detail & lush color, I fabricate from thrown, sculpted, cast & slab built forms. Each piece is carefully planned, constructed, manipulated & further treated with sprayed & extruded textures until I am satisfied with its balance & intricacies.

After careful drying, each piece is bisque fired. Then begins the glazing process of building up layers of stains & glazes by spraying & brushing. The glaze firing to 2200 degrees reveals the finished piece.

The final product is hard & durable, designed for use in the microwave & dishwasher.

After twenty years living in Albuquerque, in 2003 I moved to southwest Missouri to be with my sweetheart, Joseph Henderson. Joe is a leather worker & we travel together to art shows around the country. We hope to live in New Mexico again.
