

Judy Lewis

I have been drawing and painting since before the age of six and had my first exhibit at age 11. My subject matter and media has always been eclectic and mostly traditional, with emphasis on landscapes, florals, animals and the working cowboy.

My inspiration and influence arises from my upbringing in the American West and extensive travels in the United States and Great Britain. My philosophy in art is the same as my philosophy in life: To be happy and to contribute to the happiness and well being of those around me. I hope my art reflects that view.

I currently live in the high desert near Prescott, AZ with my husband, a dog and a cat and a fluctuating number of chickens.
